Description

Florida takes its name from the sunnier American States, evolution of the Sebino, differs for the cockpit of the driver's seat separated from the sun deck, not longer only the backrest of the seat itself, but from a bridge that joins the side panels. The finishes are fine now and for the first time it appears the American-style steering wheel-cars, and the mermaid, arched shape and chrome, which will become the feature of wooden Riva. This Superflorida is preserved in an exemplary way and everything works properly. Further info on request.
